From Our Home to Yours

Summer vacations are over, the kids are back in school, small groups are forming at church, football is here, and just about everything else seems to be getting a fresh start, too. Let's face it, August marks the real start of a 'new year' for most of us...not January 1!

Things are certainly back in full swing at our house. And it's been even extra fun getting and/or keeping our house clean and ready to show at a moment's notice. The kids are loving that! We've had a lot of lookers, but no offers yet. We're just waiting patiently.

The kids are well into the new school year and are really enjoying it so far. Hayley is a big senior this year and it's Kyle's first year in high school. June is helping out at their school as Yearbook Advisor this year, so that's added something to her plate. But she's really enjoying the opportunity to build into the lives of a small group of kids (including Hayley). She's also the 'sponsor' for a ninth-grade girls Bible study at school, so she has a chance to minister to some of the girls that Kyle has a lot of interaction with.

Health-wise, no change with Kyle's heart. June hasn't been having too many headaches recently. Thanks so much for your prayers.

Drop us a note, email or phone call and let us know how you're doing. We'd love to hear from you!

Fireproof

Last month we talked about storms, so I guess it's fitting that this month we'll talk about fires. No, we're not becoming a disaster recovery newsletter. But we do want to be sure you're aware of a new movie opening in theaters September 26 called Fireproof. This is the latest offering from the Kendrick Brothers, the producers of Facing the Giants and Flywheel. Our staff had the opportunity to see a screening of this movie last month and we are excited about it! This movie has potential like nothing we have seen in recent years to make people take a hard look at their marriage. It contains an overt Gospel message and a message of marriage reconciliation...and it is being released out of Hollywood by Provident/Sony into the secular market!

FamilyLife is partnering with Fireproof to promote the movie across the country this fall. I'm not just spouting the "company line" here when I say that you need to go see this movie! It is incredibly powerful. The acting and production values are another step up from Facing the Giants. Kirk Cameron (you may remember him from the sitcom, Growing Pains) has the lead role and he does a great job.

We want to urge you to support this movie by seeing it in the theater and by telling your friends. You know how this works. Movies that do well opening weekend get an extended run time. The more people who see it the more people will want to see it. The more who see it, the more who will hear the message. If you have friends who are struggling in their marriage, invite them to go with you. Go to www.fireproofthemovie.com to watch the trailer and to find a theater near you. (For our many friends in Arkansas, yes, you can catch it opening weekend in Little Rock, Fayetteville, Rogers and several other cities.) Pray that many will see this movie and have their lives and marriages changed!

Prayer Requests

- Pray for the launch of our Weekend to Remember fall conference season beginning in September. We're excited about the potential to reach thousands more this year!
- Please pray that millions will go see the Fireproof movie and that it will be a vehicle God uses powerfully to share the Gospel and his plan for marriage.
- Continue to pray for the sale of our house...or not...just that God's will will be done.
- Pray for continued wisdom for the 'next thing' with Kyle's heart. Right now, he's tentatively scheduled for a second attempt at correcting the problem in December.
